PREFATORY NOTE.

THIS volume contains the proceedings of the President and Council of Fort St. George for the year 1686. They were taken from the tenth and eleventh volumes of the series, "Diary and Consultation Books", and put together by the late Mr. Pringle. The foot-notes on pages 1, 18, 114 and 116 particularise the portions of the two volumes, which have been included in the present publication. The original manuscript volumes are in a fair state of preservation.

Their Petition delivered.

To the Hon^{ble} Governour &c^{a} Council.

The Inhabitants of this Town declare, that itt is now forty years & upwards, from the foundation of this Fort, & that they were invited to people & increase this Town, upon the word & favour of the English, under whom they have till now lived, receiving many honours, & favours as they have experienced in those occations they have had, without paying any tribute or rent, only in the time of the past Governour M^{r} Master, who imposed a Tax upon Arrack, upon Paddy & causing us to pay for cleansing the Streets, also increasing the Choultry Customes of goods imported and exported, also the rent of the Feilds of Paddy, & order'd that double the Custome, should be received of Tobacco, which came from other places, and because the owners could not pay said Custome, they carried their Tobacco to S^{t} Thoma, by which meanes the Choultry hath been hinder'd of the Customes formerly paid, Also the close Seige this Town suffered, which upon your Hon^{rs} arrivall was taken off, whereby this Town was newly revived from death to life, hoping that your Hon^{r} would have releived us from all Tributes and Rents, but instead thereof, we find you go about to impose and encrease other new Tributes, upon our houses, which can in no wise be, nor ought your Hon^{r} to do itt, Wherefore we beg your Hon^{r} &c^{a} for the Sake of the most high God, and in the name, of the most Serene King of England & of the Hon^{ble} Comp^{a} that you will free this Town from so heavy a Yoke, as is this Tax laid upon our houses, seing we are a poor people & live upon our labour and trouble, this Town having the fame, & is called a place of Charity & we Shall live confident in your favours and assistances, and the whole Town lightned by your goodness as they hope from your Hon^{r} &c^{a}.

Concerning the examination of Mr Pitt his Acheen Accts.

Mr John Pitt his Accts of his Acheen voyage in the Kempthorn examined, and found to be a very bad voyage, by reason of the cheapness of Rice, vast quantities being brought thether, by an unusuall number of Ships, not less then thirty Sayle, which lower'd the price as we are informed to 22 Bomboes ℔ Mace, which commonly Sold from 4 to 8, the expences being also very high for So bad a voyage Mr Pitt was examined thereon, & reprehended that he was no more frugall, when he assured us, that he had used his utmost endeavours therein, & that he was so farr from being a gainer thereby, that itt had been a considerable charge to himself, which he offer'd to depose, whereon (with Submission to the Rt Honble Compa) the Accomptant was order'd to enter his Accts accordingly, and Capt Kempthorns Bills and Acct freight, to be treated about upon his arrivall from Persia.

A Summary Acct of the examination of the charge against Jarra Chitty.

The Chief and Councill att Conimeer having made complaint of Severall things against Jarra Chitty & likewise we having recd Severall letters from Jarra Chitty complaining of his Imprisonment by them, Itt was thought convenient to order the Chief, the Rt Honble Compas Merchants and Jarra Chitty to come up hither, which they accordingly did, and when they arrived here, we Sent for the Merchts before us, to hear what they had to Say against Jarra Chitty, why he should not remaine the head of his Cast as formerly, so they gave us their reasons in writing, to which wee also recd Jarra Chitty's answer, both which are enter'd in the Coppy Book of Letters received, & they were Severall times sent for to be examined & discoursed with togeather & apart about the contents thereof, & the Merchants made Oath Solemnly after their manner, that what they had accused Jarra Chitty of in their paper, was true, & did declare besides, that he was so troublesome & exacting a person, among them, that they would rather leave their imployments, then have any thing more to do with him, but Jarra Chitty proffering to find a Company of Merchants to carry on the business, & to abate thirteen ℔ Ct upon the four new Sorts, we took itt into our consideration, & resolved, that if the old Merchants would not do the Same, we would imploy the new ones he Should bring, and therefore discharged the Peons that before attended him from Conimeer, to see if he could bring us any Such Merchants, & give us good Security for their compliance, to do which he had much time given him, till att length, he confessed he could produce no Such men, but because Such a proposition was made, and wee thought itt might reasonably be done we prest the old Merchants to itt, & att last persuaded them to yeild to the Same abatement, provided they might be rid of Jarra Chitty, to whom wee confess we had no good inclination, after itt was sworne against him, that he endeavoured to perswade the Merchants not to receive the Europe goods contracted for, Suggesting to them, that the Rt Honble Compa was but in a low condition, (and the Interlopers likely to be more powerfull,) and 'twas a question whether they could comply with Said contract on their parts, for what the Merchants should advance, besides his threatening to make his application to the Duan, to turn out the Chief, & therefore wee doe now resolve & agree, that he the Said Jarra Chitty shall be no more the head of his Cast in the Rt Honble Compas imploy, and for the present, that he be not among the number of the Merchants att Conimeer, however (in regard of some former good Services, & his capacity) itt is also agreed that whenever the Merchants can be persuaded to be reconciled to him, so as to receive him into their company againe, & he rightly Sencible of his miscarriages, we will admitt of the Same, (though not to be head of them as before) and Mr Willcox shall be order'd to use his utmost endeavours therein, att least that he be admitted to have a share in the Stock, and see that his

The President & Councills resolve thereon.

——FORT ST. GEORGE, APRILL 1686.—— [8TH.]

Acc^ts with them be justly made up, when he returnes to Conimeer, for wee intend not his ruin, thô 'tis convenient he Should suffer something Severely for his offence against the R^t Hon^ble Comp^a by endeavouring in that bad manner to lessen their Credit, for which he cannot easily make them due reparation.

Of Jarra Chitty Bond for P 1000.

And something yet remaines (when M^r Willcox shall send itt to us) to be considered of concerning the Bond of One Thousand Pagodas, which Jarra Chitty gave to M^r Willcox to be paid, if the Arbitrators (to whom itt was referred to judge whether he had any right or not to be the head of his Cast) should give itt against him, which they did, and so his Bond is forfeited, but being only in the nature of a wager, and he but poor, wee know not well what to say to itt, but we Shall peruse the Bond (when we have itt) and then pass our judgments thereon, though Jarra Chitty Say's that the Merchants have done all this against him in spite, because he first proffered to make the aforesaid abatem^t. though itt Seems without power to comply, but they having now complied with the Said abatement, we have the less to say to them about itt, and considering also that there may be Something in what Jarra Chitty Says, he has therefore found the more favour from us, and whereas Jarra Chitty has also accused Samson, the Chief Dubas, of speaking Something to him, tending to the corruption of Justice, whereof there is no proof but himself, and Samson giving his Oath that he Said no Such thing, we can't justly condemne him to suffer for the Same, but whereas in like manner he is accused to have Some Share in the Stock, and itt proveing true, we do order that he dispose of itt to Some other Merchant, itt being long Since agreed upon that no Dubass, Shall be admitted to have any Share in the Joint Stock, itt being very inconvenient for divers reasons & therefore we have advertised M^r Willcox, to endeavour to prevent itt for the future.

Portugues Souldiers refuse to go to the Bay

The Severall Comp[as] of this Garrison being in their Armes, the Portugues Souldiers, appointed for the Bay of Bengall, being asked whether they were willing to Serve the R[t] Hon[ble] Comp[a], in that expedition, did one by one refuse to go, upon pretence, that wee would Send them to the West Coast, though the President assured them to the contrary, So they had their Armes taken from them, & being of Such a dangerous consequence, a Gallows was caused to be erected before the Fort Gate, resolving to hang two or three of the ring leaders, to terrifie the rest to their duty, having now the power of Martiall Law, & when they perceived our intentions, they Submitted to proceed upon the voyage, So had their Armes returned to them, though we can expect no very hearty Service from Such backward pittyfull fellows, and 'tis resolved as soon as English Souldiers can be provided Sufficient for the Garrison, that all Topasses be disbanded, & no more entertained Since there is so little dependance on them.

To the 1^st^ Article, This Depon^t.^ Saith, that he never neglected receiving the freight of the Madras Merchant, he never having rec^d.^ any orders about itt, & she making the Fort her last Port, knows not how the Comp^a^ is damaged therein, as will ℔ his former answer appeare.

The Depon^ts.^ further Depositions & Answers to the further demands.

To the 1^st^. . . This Depon^t.^ Saith that he used his utmost endeav^rs^ for the well lading of the Constantinople Merchant, & that the goods laden on her were none of his, but bought of the Town Merchants, & were not by him over rated, & that he was not able to procure Callicoes att that time.

To the 2^d^. . . This Depon^t^ Saith that he hath done nothing but what is just in the business of S^r^ Thomas Chambers, & that he hath brought the Same to S^r^ Thomas Chambers Creditt as appeares by the Books Letters G and I.

To the 3^d^. . . This Depon^t^ Saith that he never made any advantage to himself, by the Exchange of the Old and new Pagodas, & hath sold the Comp^as^ Bullion, & other goods alwayes att the highest rates the Buzar would affoard.

To the memorandum This Depon^t.^ Saith that he gave S^r^ Edward full Credit in the Comp^as^ Books to a Cash, for the Ship Preventer & her Cargo, as doth appear by the Said Books.

[4TH·] ——FORT ST. GEORGE, OCTOBER 1686——

To the Book F. . . This Depon^t Saith that upon his perusall of the Said Book, he found the Said 2000 Pagodas, to be an Error in the Acc^t· but before that time they having Stated the business so odly, knew not what to make of itt.

To Journall G. . . . This Depon^t Saith that Atchina Braminy &c^a are truly Debtors to the Comp^a· according to the Acc^ts· and the same of Bomperage's Debt.

To Humphrys Debt. This Depon^t Saith that the Five hundred Pagodas was delivered to him for the Comp^as· Acc^t· to buy goods for them & on no other acc^t whatsoever, he being trusted Severall times by his Predecessors for farr greater Summs, who dying up in the Country, nothing was to be found.

To the charges Gulcondah This Depon^t Saith that he hath not charged one Cash more, then was given in by M^r Niclaes, and that he had a Generall order from Agent ffoxcraft, to do what hee thought fitting in the Comp^as business, he (by reason of his confinement) not having oppertunity to write att all times, & for the reasonableness thereof, referrs himself to his former answers which he Saith are just and true.

To the Accompt Sallary. The Depon^t Saith that he never charged any untill he had Served Six yeares, att which time he charged all, but att that time the Comp^a were considerably in his Debt, therefore cannot by that be Said to have made use of the Comp^as mony, & besides there is Two years Sallary more due to him, which he hath not charged, & the Comp^a· being now to make a finall end ought to allow the Same.

To M^r Broadnaxs wages. The depon^t Saith that he being order'd to the Bay, and his wages by the Comp^as order raised, he being att that time very poor, could not have got off the Shoar, without that assistance of paying his whole wages, & that he Served the Comp^a long enough after that for them to be in his Debt, more then that came to.

To Hook the Minister &c^a wages. The Depon^t Saith that he had possitive orders for the paying of them.

To Madapollam & Metchlep^a houses. The Depon^t Saith that they were both S^r Edward Winters houses, & sold by him to the Comp^a· & for what has been on them expended is true according to the Acc^t· & was done by order & advice, as appears by his answer which he Saith is true.

The Depon^t· further Saith that what ever elce is contained in, the Said charge against him for unnecessary charges &c^a· was really disbursed by him, & was also necessary So to bee, to the truth whereof he hath hereto Sett his hand & given his voluntary Oath, the four day of October Anno Domini 1686.

WILLIAM GYFFORD. WILLIAM JEARSEY.

A conclusion put to the Accts depending betweèn the Rt Honble Compa and Mr. Jearsey.

Which being read & Seriously considered, do agree, that if we proceed by way of Arbitration, we must allow him, Pag^o· 7881 : 12 : 3 being what he has Credit for in the Books, deducting. Pag^o· 2000 Error in the Acc^t of new Pagodas in Books F which he acknowledges, & pag^o 325 for Sallary, and then there would have remained Pag^o· 5556 : 12: 3 to have been paid him here, besides the Pag^o· 325 Sallary, to be paid in England, thô itt may be probably presumed that in so great a trade as he drove during his Chiefship att Metchlepatam, he might have had dealings with those Merchants who remain Debtors in the Books, & so possibly might cast his own bad Debts upon the R^t Hon^ble Comp^as· Acc^t· which to clear we pressed him to produce the Books of his own private trade for that time, but he possitivly declared he had none, & there appearing no proof thereof, nor indeed of any part of his charge, (neither can itt be expected that hereafter any further proof should be made against him, itt being so long agoe, & most if not all the persons dead, that· were privy to the transactions of those times) Wee therefore conclude to lay aside our Arbitratorship & try if we can make an agreement with him to clear all Accompts for a certaine-

Sume of mony Viz^{t} Pag^{o}. 3000 provided he depose to the foremention'd answer Since no Books of his appear, whereupon he was sent for in, & these proposalls made to him, but he Seemed very unwilling to consent thereto, declaring that since we could prove nothing against him, his Oath would stand good in Law, & give him the whole Acc^{t} with Intrest, yet after much reasoning & discourse about itt, he voluntary accepted of the Pag^{o} 3000, & by reason there is but a Small Cash, & not sufficient to pay him, Itt is agreed to give him a Bill payable in ten dayes, which he accepted of, & releases were signed on both Sides, & therein exprest that the mony was rec^{d} before the Sealing & delivering thereof, though he only had a Bill as aforesaid, & we hope the R^{t} Hon^{ble} Comp^{a}. will well approve of this Conclusion, itt being done with Sedate consideration for their Intrest, Coppy of Said Releases are enter'd next after this Consultation.
